WISE Format Descriptions

Special Address: An insightful and thought-provoking talk by an influential thought-leader.

Plenary: A conversation with diverse actors to inspire, fire-up and get you thinking about the present and the future.

Panel: Deep-dives into specific topics with relevant experts and on-the-ground actors.

Roundtable: High-level inter-sectorial exchanges where participants discuss innovative education strategies.

Workshop: Hands-on and interactive learning experiences where participants explore new perspectives on WISE-related topics in collaboration with other experts and practitioners.

WISE Research: Dedicated session for research Institutions, moderated by WISE Research Department when authors present their reports, discuss conclusions and implications for policy and practice.

EDU Debate: High-level debate between speakers who argue different sides to a provocative topic. The audience takes part by voting for which side they support before, during and after session.

Talk: Impactful, snack-sized inspirational talks. These fast-paced talks challenge conventional thinking with bold, innovative ideas.

Pitch it: Start-ups compete against each other and against time to try to win the jury's vote for the best project.

Help me solve it: Participants present an education challenge to the WISE Community and leverage the collective intelligence in the room to find a solution.

Hear my story: Participants share their views and stories around a main theme to spark new ideas among participants.

Launchpad: Participants share a new idea, solution, or concept that they are launching at the WISE Summit.

Meet the Author: Meet the authors of this year's WISE Research Reports.

Braindate: Connect with other participants for peer-to-peer learning conversations.

Learning Lab: Pupils, teachers and other participants discover and engage in innovative experiences that support creativity, learning, and collaboration.

Meet Qatar Foundation: Qatar Foundation hosts thematic discussions with key education stakeholders.

Education Above All Zone: Engage with Education Above All to find education solutions for communities facing poverty and crisis.

Majlis: Arabic term that means a place where people come together. It describes various types of special gatherings.
